Football fever has hit the nation and our buses!

Whether or not you're wearing red and white, or getting in the spirit of #waistcoatwednesday, there's no escaping the fever sweeping the nation ahead of England's crucial clash with Croatia in the World Cup semi-finals tonight.

To celebrate the Three Lions' biggest match in decades, we're getting behind Southgate's boys. #itscominghome is on our printed tickets today and our team of 2,100 engineers, drivers, customer service reps and support staff couldn't be prouder to give the team their backing.

Come on England!
